A Psalm for protection.

He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High, and abides in the shade of the Almighty, says to the Lord, "My refuge, my stronghold, my God, in whom I trust!"

It is he who will free you from the snare of the fowler who seeks to destroy you; He will conceal you with his pinions and under his wings you will find refuge.

You will not fear the terror of the night, nor the arrow that flies by day, nor the plague that prowls in darkness, nor the scourge that lays waste at noon.

A thousand may fall at your side, ten thousand at your right hand; you, it will never approach; his faithfulness is buckler and shield.

Your eyes have only to look to see how the wicked are repaid, you who have said: "Lord, my refuge!" And have made the Most High your dwelling.

Upon you no evil shall fall, no plague approach where you dwell. For you he has commanded his angels, to keep you in all your ways.

They shall bear you upon their hands lest you strike your foot against a stone. On the lion and the viper you will tread and trample the young lion and the dragon.

Since he clings to me in love, I will free him; protect him, because he knows my name. When he calls I shall answer: "I am with you." I will save him in distress and give him glory.

With length of life I will content him; I shall let him see my saving power.
Psalm 90(91) c The Grail 1963 published by Collins.
